

Dear KAIRS 2012 conference attendees,

The 2012 KAIRS Annual Meeting will feature an exciting Professional Development conference that will feature the theme of Navigating the Storms of Learning. The dates are February 6 & 7 and the meeting will once again be in Topeka. The KAIRS registration form and tentative schedule are listed below.

Keynote Speaker David Warlick, is a much requested education consultant that addresses “teaching and learning in the new information landscape.” He refers to himself as an educator helping to create a vision for classrooms that will change ideas regarding teaching, curriculum and learning.

In addition, experts from the State of Kansas and beyond will address some of the hottest topics in education, including core curriculum, brain research, Early Childhood and integrating technology. All non-public school teachers are invited to attend this educational and inspirational event. You are encouraged to invite board members and other administrators as well. The registration fee is $80.00 for the first person and $70.00 for the second person registered from the same school! Please make your reservations with the hotel as soon as possible and send your forms to Jamie Finkeldei at the address below. Hope to see you in February!
